In practice, this means that opposition fighters will have to return to Syria if they want to live. The Observatory said, however, that no one is really sure of what is happening and that some opposition groups have refused to surrender their weapons. "The regime and the opposition are in a critical situation. The opposition is expected to surrender their weapons or to move to areas under their control. All the opposition leaders have agreed to this truce. However, the opposition is expected to announce an official decision regarding this agreement in order to prevent the regime from changing their position," said Rami Abdul Rahman, head of the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights. However, Abdul Rahman stressed that, until now, there has been no word about the fate of the thousands of opposition fighters who were forced to evacuate eastern Aleppo last week, under an evacuation deal with the regime. Overnight on Tuesday, the regime made a large-scale military push to take over the city from the rebel fighters. This led to intense clashes in which the regime managed to advance to the eastern edges of the city. After the failed advances, the regime

In 2010, the International Conference on Medical Services to the Ageing Population (MSA) was organized in Szeged, Hungary, as part of the 4th Global Forum on Sustainability and Ageing, which was held in Istanbul, Turkey. Over the past few decades, medical science has made significant progress in meeting the needs of the elderly and improved the care they receive. This progress has, however, come at a high social and economic cost. In light of these changes, it is important for medical professionals and policy makers to evaluate and plan for the future. The main objectives of the Global Forum on MSA were to encourage cross-country and cross-disciplinary dialogue on how to promote and improve health and healthcare for older persons and to present new approaches for dealing with ageing populations. During the conference, a report was given on the situation and changes in the provision of medical services to elderly people in Hungary, and a number of thematic sessions were held. In addition to the clinical health services available in Hungary, a lot of attention is being paid to the medical services of the elderly. The health services available to the elderly in the country are listed in this article, in particular, those related to the following six fields: (1) medical services, (2) the utilisation of nursing services, (3) specialised geriatric nursing services, (4) the utilisation of social welfare services, (5) the utilisation of inpatient and outpatient hospital care, and (6) the utilisation of long-term care services.Obama and El-Sissi to Discuss Egypt's Regional Role May 09, 2014 The United States on Monday will host Egypt's newly elected president, Abdel Fattah El-Sisi, for 2d92ce491b
