A: It looks like the author of the app removed any source code from the GitHub page. The project may be open source, but it's gone from the main page of the GitHub repository. NoteBurner has been discontinued and cannot be downloaded anymore. It is no longer under active development. From the same page, you may want to check out the noteburner-ios. Edit: Based on your comments, I see what you mean. It's not a backup app, it's an XLS file converter, it exports iTunes, Coverflow, and many other XLSX to video formats. The developer hasn't updated the app in a while. It's not very popular but it has a Facebook page and it does have some regular users. //----- // This software is Copyright (c) 2d92ee491b
